The Ghost of Joe's, 2018, oil on canvas, 50" x 56"

Artist in Residence and exhibition
HOME
on view until March 5th at the Higgins Gallery

HIGGINS ART GALLERY is proud to present 4C's Artist in Residence JOE DIGGS.

Joe is a painter who lives on Micha's Pond, Cape Cod. Until the early '70s, Micha's Pond was a resort for African Americans who came to spend a vacation on Cape Cod during racial segregation. It is now a resort for people of all races.

While presenting his artwork, Joe will share his family story from the time his ancestors landed on Cape Cod from Cape Verde.
We will also have a special speaker, Historian Audrey Thomas.

Artist's Statement: "My work has always assisted me with life on Micah's Pond, Cape Cod, a beautiful property once owned by my grandfather, then my father, now me."

"The process of painting has helped me emotionally by providing a physical escape. Blending figuration and abstraction with a basis or departure from landscape gives me the space to make emotionally hypnotic gestural works. An example of this is a series dedicated to the late James Byrd Jr. after being dragged to death in Jasper Texas. A later series, "Baller's" referring to the decline of African American men in Major League Baseball, was a point of departure into the world of racial inequalities. Realizing the importance of celebrating the positive in life, my latest works reflect a more romantic aspect of life as an African American man pursuing his dreams."
